Tips for Collecting Food Scraps and Dropping Off

Pilot Food Waste Drop-Off

313 N. Dixon Ave., Cary, NC

Open to Cary residents, no commercial interests.

- Collect your food scraps at home in a tightly sealed container and consider putting it in the refrigerator or freezer between drop-off visits. This may also help minimize potential odors.
- Don't forget to remove produce stickers, twist ties, and rubber bands from all food scraps before placing in your collection container.
- BPI certified compostable bags may start to break down, especially with wet items. Consider emptying scraps into your bags right before going to the drop-off and/or use a rigid tote or pail for tidy transport.
- Have neighbors that want to participate? Consider setting up a compost carpool to pick up and drop off your combined scraps!
